 - EXPENDITURE INCURRED (INR) 60120
- ✓ From 19th to 23rd January 2025, MSW students of Govt v.y.t. PG College, Durg visited Visakhapatnam, Andhra Pradesh. The tour aimed to provide practical exposure to industrial, cultural, environmental, and social aspects. Students explored film-making at Ramanaidu Film City and visited Visakhapatnam Port and industrial areas. They also observed natural sites like Kailasagiri and RK Beach. The tour enriched students' academic understanding and professional insight through real-world experiences.

Case study

📌 Case Study 1: Vaishnavi – Practical Learning through Industrial and Tribal Exposure

Vaishnavi, a student of MSW, actively participated in all extension and educational activities organized by the department. During the tribal field visits (Dusari, siyadevi, etc.), she focused on understanding the socio-economic status and cultural life of tribal communities. She confidently used the interview schedule to collect structured data and analyze the ground-level challenges faced by tribal women. During the Visakhapatnam educational tour, Vaishnavi was particularly drawn to the industrial visits, especially the port operations. She interacted with officials, asked relevant questions, and made notes on how employment, logistics, and environmental balance are maintained in large-scale industries. These experiences helped her develop a practical understanding of economic and social dynamics.

📌 Case Study 2: Sharda – Cultural Sensitivity and Community Engagement

Sharda showed a keen interest in exploring the cultural and traditional aspects of both tribal and urban communities. In the extension activities, she interviewed tribal elders about traditional customs and local festivals, documenting oral histories and indigenous knowledge. Her approach reflected deep cultural sensitivity and respect for tribal identity. During the Visakhapatnam tour, Sharda was fascinated by the film-making process at Ramanaidu Film City. She appreciated how cultural narratives are portrayed through cinema and how such platforms can be used for social awareness. Her learning extended beyond academics into the role of culture in development and community identity.

📌 Case Study 3: Naveen – Environment, Sanitation & Rural Change

Naveen was highly engaged in topics related to sanitation, solid waste management, and rural transformation. In the sanitary pad factory visit and SHG-based extension programmes, he focused on how grassroots initiatives can bring social and environmental change. He analyzed how SHGs contribute to women's empowerment and ecological sustainability through eco-friendly production. During the Visakhapatnam tour, Naveen was most impressed with RK Beach and Kailasagiri, where he observed the interaction between tourism and environment. He noted both the benefits and the pressure on natural resources and discussed ideas for community-based sustainable tourism. These experiences enhanced his understanding of environmental sociology and social work's role in sustainability.
